

NEW YORK CITY OFFICE OF COLLECTIVE BARGAINING

Notice of Public Hearing and Opportunity to Comment on Proposed Rules

What are we proposing? The Office of Collective Bargaining (“OCB”) is proposing changes that will permit the filing of documents electronically through a newly-created e-filing system on the website, allow service and filing by email, and permit the posting of required notices by electronic means. Additional proposed amendments to the OCB’s Rules will eliminate certain outmoded administrative requirements and make using the rules easier and more user-friendly by the addition of cross-references to relevant sections, and by conforming dates and times for responses and clarifying the definitions of filing, service and proof of service. Other changes clarify how the rules have been interpreted or add existing practices such as permitting the acceptance of electronic showing of interest in representation cases and permitting the filing of amicus curiae briefs upon permission of the Director.

When and where is the hearing? The OCB will hold a public hearing on the proposed rule. The public hearing will take place at 10:30 AM on Wednesday, August 1, 2018. The hearing will be in the Board Room at 100 Gold Street, Suite 4800, New York, New York 10038.

Statement of Basis and Purpose of Proposed Rule

Sections 12-309(a)(7) and 12-309(b)(6) of the New York City Administrative Code authorize the Office of Collective Bargaining's ("OCB") two constituent boards, the Board of Collective Bargaining and the Board of Certification, respectively, "to adopt rules and regulations for the conduct of its business and the carrying out of its powers and duties". The proposed changes modify the OCB's procedural rules, which are found in Title 61 of the Rules of the City of New York, to incorporate new procedures for using modern technology, eliminate unnecessary requirements or references to outmoded technology, make clarifications to reflect how the Rules have been interpreted or to include existing practices, and make understanding the Rules and practice before the OCB more user-friendly.

Listed below are the most substantive proposed changes. Particularly significant among the proposed changes is the addition of rules providing for the filing and service of pleadings and other documents electronically through the OCB's e-filing system. This new system will simplify filing and service for petitioners by, among other things, eliminating the requirement that petitioners serve all parties named in the e-filed action by shifting the burden of service to the OCB.

The proposed rule:

1. Adds new procedures incorporating modern technology:
 - Modernizes all notice posting requirements to allow for posting of notices and other communication with employees through methods such as e-bulletin boards and email;
 - Provides for the filing and service of pleadings and other documents electronically through the OCB's e-filing system;
 - Permits filing with the Board and service on parties by email, for matters not initiated via the e-filing system.

2. Eliminates unnecessary requirements or references to outmoded technology:
 - Eliminates the requirement that parties file three copies of every document, in addition to the original, with the OCB;
 - Eliminates facsimile as an acceptable method of filing and service;
 - Eliminates references to only in-person representation elections as representation elections are now conducted by mail, telephone and via a web-based platform.

3. Clarifies the Rules to reflect how they have been interpreted and to include existing practices:
 - Codifies the practice of accepting submission of proof of interest electronically in representation cases;
 - Clarifies the description of when a petition can be timely filed after the expiration of a collective bargaining agreement;
 - Clarifies the provisions governing Amendments to Certification Petitions to reflect the Board's history of case processing and interpretation of its meaning;
 - Clarifies that the Director's recommendation for the creation of an impasse panel will be conveyed to the parties in writing only;

- Conforms the description of the waiver required with a Request for Arbitration to the language of the 2012 statutory amendment;
- Clarifies the parties' obligation to designate an agent for service;
- Clarifies that any objections to the OCB Executive Secretary's deficiency letter must be filed within 10 business days after service of the deficiency letter;
- Clarifies that supporting briefs must be submitted with a parties' responsive pleading, unless prior permission to submit it later is granted;
- Provides that if an injunctive relief petition is served in person, it must also be served by email;
- Permits the filing of a Motion to Dismiss in lieu of an answer with permission of the Director;
- Permits filing of an Amicus Curiae brief with permission of the Director.
- Incorporates additional protected classes to the certification requirements for employee organizations, to conform to changes in the Administrative Code.

4. Makes understanding the Rules and practice before the OCB more user-friendly:

- Conforms most response times in representation case processing to 20 business days;
- Harmonizes filing and service deadlines so that they are calculated, with minor exceptions, using business days and not calendar days;
- Eliminates the requirement to submit an affidavit in support of only one type of representation petition;
- Includes cross-references to other relevant sections of the rules;
- Clarifies the definitions of Filing, Service, Proof of Service and when service is complete;
- Clearly differentiates between filing and service through the e-filing system versus more traditional methods of effecting filing and service;
- Eliminates the requirement that parties add five calendar days prior to computing time periods prescribed by the Rules where service was completed by mail.
- Includes minor plain language changes throughout.

The OCB's authority for these rules is found in section 1043 of the New York City Charter and sections 12-309(a)(7) and 12-309(b)(6) of the New York City Administrative Code.

New material is underlined.

Proof of interest shall be based on the payroll immediately preceding the date of filing of the petition, unless the Board deems such period to be unrepresentative.

(g) Petitions -- contract bar; time to file. A valid contract between a public employer and a public employee organization will bar the processing of any petition filed outside of the window periods described below. The time period for filing a petition for certification, designation, decertification or revocation of designation pursuant to § 1-02(c), (d), or (e) of these rules [shall be] is: for a contract of no more than three years' duration, a petition can be filed not less than 150 or more than 180 calendar days before the contract's expiration date; for a contract of more than three years' duration, a petition can be filed not less than 150 or more than 180 calendar days before the contract's expiration date, or not less than 150 or more than 180 calendar days before the end of the third year of that contract. No petition for certification, decertification or investigation of a question or controversy concerning representation may be filed after the expiration of a contract. However, [in the event that] if a window period would be eliminated or shortened, such as when a public employer and a public employee organization sign a successor contract after that contract has expired or less than 180 days before it expires, then a petition for certification, decertification or question or controversy concerning representation may be filed in the 30-day period following the date the successor contract is signed by all parties. Moreover, if the Board finds that unusual or extraordinary circumstances exist, such as when there is reason to believe that a recognized or certified employee organization is defunct or has abandoned representation of the employees in the unit for which it was recognized or certified, the Board may process a petition otherwise barred by this rule.

(h) Petitions -- notice of filing. Upon the filing of a petition pursuant to the provisions of § 1-02 of these rules, the Office of Collective Bargaining will publish the notice [thereof shall be posted] on its website[on the public docket maintained by the Board] and [shall be published]in the City Record. The notice shall include the date the petition was filed, the name and address of the petitioner, the name and address of the public employer, and a statement of the action sought. [A]The notice [containing the same information] will be prepared by the Board and delivered to the employer, which [shall]must post or distribute [it]the notice in the manner in which it [on the bulletin board] customarily communicates information to employees. If posted, notices must remain [used for the posting of notices for] for a minimum of ten business days. Within 20 business days of service of the notice, the public employer must provide the Director of Representation with a certification that the notice has been posted or distributed.

(i) Responses -- time to file. For petitions filed pursuant to § 1-02(c), (d), or (e) of these rules the public employer or an employee organization certified to represent the existing bargaining unit [shall]must file its written submission with the Director of Representation within [30]20 business days after service of the notice of filing of a petition pursuant to § 1-02 of these rules, [an original and three copies of its written submission], with proof of service upon all other parties, setting forth its position on the petition. As circumstances require, the request of the public employer or employee organization for an extension of time to file its written submission, on notice to all parties, shall not be unreasonably denied. When it is the public employer's position that any of the petitioned-for titles and employees are managerial or confidential, in its written submission the employer [shall]must comply with the requirements of § 1-02(v) of these rules insofar as they require a statement of the factual basis of the allegation that the affected titles and employees are managerial or confidential, as the case may be. In the absence of any response from the public employer or an employee organization certified to represent the existing bargaining unit within the time specified above, the Board shall proceed with processing the petition. For petitions filed pursuant to § 1-02(c) and (e) of these rules, responses filed by an employer must contain an alphabetized list of all the employees in the unit(s) sought.

(j) Investigation.

(1) In its investigation of a question or controversy concerning representation, the Board may conduct informal conferences or hearings, may direct an election or elections, or use any other suitable method to resolve the question concerning representation.

(2) If, after a petition [or motion]has been filed pursuant to section § 1-02 of these rules and at any time prior to the close of the record, it appears to the Director of Representation that no further proceedings are warranted because the petition [or motion] does not raise a question concerning representation or is otherwise insufficient due to untimeliness, contract or certification bar or lack of a sufficient showing of interest, the Director of Representation may dismiss the petition [or deny the motion] by administrative action, and will so advise the parties in writing, setting forth the grounds for dismissal.

(3) Within 10 business days after service of a letter dismissing a [motion or] petition, the petitioner may obtain review of the dismissal by filing with the Board [an original and three copies of] a statement in writing setting forth the reasons for the appeal together with proof of service thereof upon all other parties. A response by a non-moving party may be filed within 10 business days of service of the appeal.

(k) Appropriate units -- determination. In determining appropriate bargaining units, the Board will consider, among other factors:

(1) Which unit will assure public employees the fullest freedom in the exercise of the rights granted under the statute and the applicable executive order;

(2) The community of interest of the employees;

(3) The history of collective bargaining in the unit, among other employees of the public employer, and in similar public employment;

(4) The effect of the unit on the efficient operation of the public service and sound labor relations;

(5) Whether the officials of government at the level of the unit have the power to agree or make effective recommendations to other administrative authority or the legislative body with respect to the terms and conditions of employment which are the subject of collective bargaining;

(6) Whether the unit is consistent with the decisions and policies of the Board.

(l) Determination of representatives on consent. Subject to the approval of the Director of Representation, the parties to a representation proceeding may waive a hearing and agree in writing on the method by which the Board shall determine the question of representation.

(m) Voluntary recognition -- notification.

(1) Filing of notification. When the public employer proposes voluntarily to recognize a public employee organization for the representation of public employees pursuant to § 12-303(1)(2) of the statute, the employer [shall] must file [an original and three copies of] a signed written notification with the Board.

(2) Notification of proposed recognition by public employer -- contents. Unless e-filed pursuant to § 1-12(e)(2), t[T]he notification [shall] must contain:

(i) The name, address, telephone [and fax]number[s], and email address of the public employer;

(ii) A general description of the public employer's function and the number of its employees;

(iii) The [classes of] titles [of,] and the approximate number of, employees in the units which have been recognized [and the approximate number of employees therein];

(iv) A statement that no question or controversy is known to exist concerning representation thereof;

(v) The names, addresses, and telephone [and fax] numbers of the public employee organization(s) which has been recognized to represent the employees in the units;

(vi) A request that the certification held by the public employee organization(s) be amended, if applicable, to reflect the voluntary recognition.

(3) Notification of proposed recognition -- notice of filing. Upon the filing of a notification of proposed recognition pursuant to the provisions of § 1-02 of these rules, [notice thereof shall be posted] the Office of Collective Bargaining will publish the notice on its website [on the public docket maintained by the Board] and [shall be published] in the City Record. The notice shall include the date the notification of recognition was filed, the name and address of the public employer, the name and address of the public employee organization, and a statement of the action sought. [A] The notice [containing the same information] will be prepared by the Board and delivered to the employer, which [shall] must post or distribute [it] the notice in the manner by which it [on bulletin boards] customarily [used for the posting of notices for] communicates information to employees. If posted, notices must remain for a minimum of 10 business days. Within [21 calendar] 20 business days of service of the notice, the public employer [shall] must provide the [Board] Director of Representation with a [signed] certification that the notice has been posted or distributed.

(4) Objection to proposed recognition. An employee, a group of employees, or a public employee organization may file a statement with the Board objecting to the proposed recognition and alleging that a question or controversy exists regarding representation. [Such a] The statement of objection, if filed in a timely manner within the period of objection, will preclude a proposed recognition from becoming effective. [In the event] If an objection is timely filed, the notice of voluntary recognition will be deemed a petition pursuant to § 1-02(d) of these rules and will be processed accordingly.

(5) Period of objection. A public employee or employee organization objecting to the recognition [shall] must file [an original and three copies of] its statement of objection, with proof of service on the public employer and public employee organization, setting forth the basis for its opposition within [20] 10 [calendar] business days of publication of the notice of filing in the City Record.

(n) Elections -- participation; eligibility.

(1) If the Board determines, as part of its investigation, to conduct an election, it shall determine who may participate in the election and appear on the ballot, the form of the ballot, the employees eligible to vote in the election, and the rules governing the election. An intervening public employee organization, other than a certified public employee organization, shall not be entitled to appear on the ballot except upon a showing of interest, satisfactory to the Board, of at least 10 percent of the employees in the unit found to be appropriate.

(2) When a public employer objects to the addition of supervisory or professional employees to a unit which contains non-supervisory employees or non-professional employees pursuant to § 12-309(b)(1) of the statute, an election [shall] must be held to determine whether a majority of supervisory or professional employees voting in an election are in favor of such a unit. The electorate of such an election [shall] must consist solely of such supervisory or professional employees sought to be added to such a unit. When there is a dispute as to the eligibility of the employees in question or the appropriateness of the proposed unit, those issues shall be resolved by the Board prior to the holding of an election under this subdivision.

(3) Except upon consent of the parties, [N]no election shall be conducted in any bargaining unit or any subdivision thereof within which[, in the preceding 12-month period,] a valid election [shall have] has been held [except upon the consent of the parties] in the preceding 12-month period.

(o) Elections -- notice. Prior to the election, the Board will prepare a notice of election which will specify the time, [and] place, and manner in which voting will be conducted, [of the election, the hours the polls will be open, the classes of]titles of employees in the appropriate unit in which the election is to be conducted, rules concerning eligibility to vote, the form and content of the ballot, and such additional information and instructions as the Board may determine. [Copies of the notice will be delivered to]T[t]he public employer[, who shall] must post or distribute the notice in the manner by which it customarily communicates information to employees. If posted, notices must remain [post them on the employees' bulletin boards and in other appropriate places,] until the election has been concluded.

(p) Elections.

(1) Conduct. All elections [shall] must be by secret ballot and [shall] must be conducted under the supervision of an agent of the Board [at such time and place as the agent may direct]in the manner determined by the agent.

(2) Observers. Each party may be represented by observers selected in accordance with such limitations and conditions as the Board may prescribe.

(3) Challenges. An observer or the Board's agent conducting the election may challenge for good cause the eligibility of any person to vote in the election. Challenged ballots shall be impounded pending Board decision thereon.

(4) Count of ballots. After the polls have been closed, the ballots shall be counted by the Board's agent in the presence of the observers.

(5) Report of count. Upon the conclusion of the election, the Board or its agent shall prepare and serve upon the parties a report showing the results of the election.

(q) Inconclusive elections; run-off. In any election in which three or more choices (including "no representative") appear on the ballot, if no choice receives a majority of the valid ballots cast, and the valid ballots cast for "no representative" total less than 50 percent of the valid ballots cast, the Board may conduct a run-off election in which only the two public employee organizations which received the largest number of valid votes shall appear on the ballot, and the choice of "no representative" shall be omitted [there]from the ballot.

(r) Post-election procedure -- objections; challenges. Within seven business days after service of the report of count, any party may serve on all other parties and file with the Board (with proof of service) [an original and three copies of] objections to the election, to conduct affecting the results of the election, or to the report of count. The objections [shall]must be verified[,] and [shall]must contain a concise statement of the facts constituting the grounds of objections. The Board may direct oral argument before it, or direct a hearing, or otherwise investigate and make its determination with respect to the objections or any challenged ballots.

(s) Certification -- determination of majority; no strike affirmation; disqualification.

(1) Upon completion of its investigation of any petition [or motion] filed pursuant to § 1-02 of these rules, the Board shall certify [to the parties] the name of the representative, if any, which has been designated [as their representative] by a majority of the employees in the appropriate bargaining unit[,] or, if an election is held, which has been selected by the majority of the employees casting valid ballots in the election, or make other disposition of the matter. Notice of certifications issued by the Board shall be published in the City Record.

(2) No public employee organization shall be certified as an exclusive bargaining representative unless it has filed with the Board a no-strike affirmation as required by the New York State Public Employees Fair Employment Act.

(3) An employee organization shall not be eligible for certification as an exclusive bargaining representative if it:

(i) discriminates with regard to the terms and conditions of membership because of race, color, creed, religion, disability, gender, sexual orientation, age, or national origin, or

(ii) engages in or advocates the violent overthrow of the government of the United States or any state or any political subdivision thereof.

(t) Certification; designation -- life; modification. When a representative has been certified by the Board, [such]the certification [shall]remains in effect for one year from the date [there]of the certification and until [such time thereafter as it shall be made to appear to] the Board determines, [through]after a secret ballot election conducted in a proceeding under § 1-02(c), (d), or (e) of these rules, that the certified employee organization no longer represents a majority of the employees in the appropriate unit. When a representative has been designated by the Board to represent a unit for the purposes specified in paragraphs two, three or [five] six of § 12-307(a) of the statute, [such]the designation [shall] remains in effect for one year from the date [there]of designation and until the Board determines that the designated employee organization no longer represents a majority of the employees in the appropriate unit. Notwithstanding the above bar on challenging a certification within one year of its issuance, in any case when unusual or extraordinary circumstances require, such as when there is reason to believe that a recognized or certified employee organization is defunct or has abandoned representation of the employees in the unit for which it was recognized or certified, the Board may modify or suspend, or may shorten or extend the life of the certification or designation.

(u) Amendments of certifications – [motion]petition; [affidavit;] notice of filing; [answering affidavit] response; disposition by the Board.

(1) A public employer or the certified bargaining representative of a unit may [make]file a [motion]petition requesting amendment of a certification to [include classes of titles (positions), the names of which are changed, or new specialty designations, or a new class of titles (positions), and/or to delete obsolete titles (positions) or designations]add and/or delete titles or to reflect that the certified bargaining representative has changed its name. [together with proof of service on any other parties.]If a proposed amendment raises a question concerning the majority status of the certified bargaining representative, the petition must be filed pursuant to § 1-02(c).

(5) Answer -- service and filing.
